The character and design of Ezell Community Park should focus primarily on

- 53% Passive Recreation (activities that take place within natural and minimally developed spaces)
- 35% Active Recreation (activities that require specific facilities for play such as fields, courts, and other highly developed spaces)
- 12% Agrarian & Nature Based Recreation (activities that relate to the education and preservation of nature or the sustainable cultivation of land and the advancement of local agricultural groups or co-ops)

We need basketball courts and play areas for children

Is there any chance the huge rectangular chunk of land, jutting into the park, will ever be acquired? Did the owners just refuse to sell or were they asking too much for the land? From the standpoint of developing decent bike and walking trails, it really presents an impediment to effectively utilizing the property.

Comments: Virtual Town Hall for Ezell Community Park

The most active parts of the park are located next to the houses in the U of the park. Can these be located further away or screening be planted to shield the houses from noise and activity?
